Home energy resources at your fingertips.

Whether you want to do it yourself or get help from a pro, our tools can help you save energy and money.

Home Energy Evaluation

Our professional Home Energy Evaluations — offered in-person or virtually, using your smartphone — provide a customized energy efficiency report for your home. Our Home Energy Advisors evaluate your home, collect information for your efficiency report, and make energy-saving recommendations. To find out if virtual evaluations are offered in your area, call 855-237-2673 or visit EnergyRight.com.

Quality Contractor Network

EnergyRight and your local power company make it easy to find a trustworthy contractor to complete your home energy upgrades. Hire with confidence when you find a TVA-approved contractor through our Quality Contractor Network (QCN). For additional peace of mind, request a free job inspection. A TVA-certified inspector will visit your home and inspect your contractor's work.

DIY Home Energy Assessment

Find out where you could be saving energy and money in your home when you take our free DIY Home Energy Assessment. Move room to room, answering simple questions about your home's energy use. Receive a free customized report with energy efficiency recommendations for your home, plus a free energy-saving kit delivered to your door.

Home energy upgrades financing

Living comfortably shouldn't mean breaking the bank. We offer financing billed through your local power company or a local financial institution, depending on your area. To find out what your financing options are, contact your local power company. Financing available in select areas.

Home Energy Workshops

Interested in saving energy and money? Check out our virtual Home Energy Workshops or find one in your local area to learn low-cost, no-cost and DIY tips on how to make your home more energy efficient. Plus, learn the ins and outs of your utility bill or chat with Energy Specialists who can answer your energy efficiency questions. And don't miss our workshops just for kids.
